Indiana's Lifeline Law

People younger than 21 who are under the influence of alcohol will not be prosecuted for crimes such as possession, intoxication, or consumption of alcohol if they call 911 to seek medical help for another person or in cases of sexual assault, as long as they cooperate with police. The law also protects minors from legal consequences during an alcohol-related and/or substance-related emergency.

If you, or someone you know, has experienced or witnessed sexual misconduct, it is important to get help as soon as possible. Remember, it is never the fault of the person who experiences any form of sexual misconduct, and it is never OK. In an emergency, dial 911 to reach IUPD, or call Sexual Assault Crisis Services at 812-855-8900 (available 24/7).

Confidential Victim Advocates are specially trained advocates who can connect you with available resources on and off campus, assist in obtaining interim measures for coping with daily life, assist you in the applicable conduct process, and address your academic and other university-related concerns.
